

Harbour Walk

-  Green Dots
-  30 minutes to harbour, 1 hour there and back
-  Recommended for walkers, bikes and pushchairs
-  Cobbles at the harbour can be slippery if wet

This is a scenic route that takes in part of the shore and the harbour itself. From the Sports Centre turn left into Newbigging, continue along this road until you reach the High Street. Cross over at the traffic lights and walk ahead through the small car park in front of some shops – you will see the Town Hall and clock on your left hand side. Go through the vennel at Kerr's Wynd and continue a short distance until you reach Millhill. Turn right into Millhill and then left into James Street. At James Street you will see the River Esk in front of you, cross the river at the metal bridge and turn right along the river path. Continue along this path which will veer round to the left – the Firth of Forth will be on your right as you walk past the playing fields of Loretto School and Fisherrow Links. Walk along the Promenade past the bench with its sail-like metal wind-break. When you reach Musselburgh Harbour take a little time to take in the spectacle of the brightly coloured pleasure boats in the harbour. Retrace your steps back to the Sports Centre.

Fisherrow Harbour

Routes in and around Musselburgh

The Fisherrow fishwives wore distinctive blue and white striped dresses and carried wicker creels. Their menfolk away fishing most of the year meant the women led tough independent lives. During the eighteenth century records show that on the Links in Musselburgh, a women's golf competition was held annually on New Years Day, among the fishwives of Musselburgh and Fisherrow.

The John Muir Way, which forms part of the North Sea Trail, is being developed by East Lothian Council to provide a continuous path linking East Lothian with the City of Edinburgh and the Borders. The routes are signposted and offer magnificent views of the East Lothian coastline and a chance to see the natural history and historic sites of this unique landscape. The John Muir Way can be tackled in short sections or as part of a circular walk as there are many other paths linking into it. Further information about walks around Musselburgh and the John Muir Way can be obtained by phoning East Lothian Council on 01620 827419 or visiting www.eastlothian.gov.uk

Levenhall Links Walk

-  Orange Dots
-  1 hr 30 minutes
-  Recommended for walkers, bikes and pushchairs. As this walk passes by a nature reserve, please keep your dog under proper control.
-  Wear appropriate clothing as can feel exposed on a windy day. Path can be isolated in parts.

In the early 1960s the lagoons were formed and this area now attracts a variety of birds and consequently bird watchers. This walk also offers views of Fife and is part of the John Muir Way.

Start from the Musselburgh Sports Centre, turn left down Newbigging to the High Street. Cross the High Street at the traffic lights and head under the vennel at Kerr's Wynd. Go straight ahead and turn right into Millhill and then left into James Street. The River Esk should now be in front of you. Follow the river on your left hand side until it reaches the river mouth. Look out for the John Muir Way signpost, and follow the gravel path along the coast. This area is important for wild birds. Keep to the path until you see the next signpost, turning off to your right. This path takes you along the side of a pond on the right hand side. If you have time visit the bird hides/reserve by taking the left hand fork of the path. To return to the Sports Centre, continue along the path with the pond on your right hand side until you reach the Race Course, turn right again and head back to the first John Muir Way signpost. Retrace your steps to the Sports Centre.

HISTORY

The name Musselburgh derives from the extensive mussel beds which lie along its shore on the Firth of Forth. The coat of arms for Musselburgh is made up of three mussels and three anchors, with the anchors referring to the fishing tradition of the community.

The town motto 'Honesty' dates back to 1332, when the Regent of Scotland, Randolph, Earl of Moray died in the Burgh after a long illness during which he was devotedly cared for by the citizens of the Burgh. His successor offered to reward the people for their loyalty but they declined saying they were only doing their duty. The new regent was very impressed and said they were a set of honest men, hence "Honest Toun".

Some historical points of interest to look out for on your walks:-

- Much of Lewisvale Park is now protected because of the amount of Iron Age and Roman settlement remains that survive there.
- Pinkie House is originally 17th century in date and is surrounded by 17th century formal gardens.
- Millhill represents the medieval back lane to the burgage plots which extended north from the High Street. Burgage plots are long, narrow strips of land running at right angles to the main streets in medieval towns. The houses or shops would usually be at the front facing onto the street. Behind them would be workshops and yards.
- On either side of Crookston Road much of the landscape has now been protected because of the large number of archaeological sites surviving here. Both Iron Age and Roman settlement and field system remains can be found here.
- St Michael's Kirk spire is a prominent feature of the Musselburgh skyline. This spot was a strategic site during Iron Age and Roman times. The earliest Christian church on this site was established in the 6th century.

WILDLIFE

The Bird Reserve at Levenhall Links provides an excellent vantage point for visitors to observe local bird life. Shallow clay lined pools have been created to attract a variety of wading birds to the Reserve. Many of these birds are local species that visit to roost when the incoming tide forces them off the rich feeding grounds of the estuary. Specially constructed hides allow the visitor to study birds without causing any disturbance to wildlife.

The viewing facilities at the Bird Reserve are open throughout the year and accessible to wheelchair users. To avoid disturbing wildlife, please keep dogs under control at all times and please take your litter home.

Wildlife in and around Musselburgh is not restricted to nature reserves. Musselburgh is famous for its swans on the River Esk. About 20 years ago a special island was created at the Store Bridge and swans have nested there ever since. If you visit the swans, please remember that they are wild birds and do not feed them. Walking along the Esk, you may be lucky to spot a heron, kingfisher or even an otter. All this within the heart of the town.
